DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This action is responsive to the Amendment After Non-Final Amendment received on 1/16/2006. No claims were amended, canceled or added.

Claims 43-47 are allowed.

Examiner's Amendment

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Atty. Lance Sadler on 12/21/2005.

The application has, therefore, been amended as follows:

- Regarding Claim 43:
 - delete “either (a)” in line 9, and
 - replace “or (b)” in line 10 with –and—.

Reasons for Allowance

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art or record fails to teach neither singly nor in combination, the claimed limitation of “defining an index having values that are assigned to various degrees of desirability that an email message can have, wherein the degrees of desirability extend from a low degree of desirability to a high degree of desirability” as stated in independent claim 43. Specifically, none of the prior art of record teach the association of a plurality of parameters having parameter values with the various degrees of desirability, wherein at least some of the parameters do not depend on any message that is conveyed by any content of an email message; and the establishment of a user interface through which a user can adjust individual parameter values that establish a degree of desirability, and index values that establish a degree of desirability that email messages must have in order to be saved to dedicated user storage locations. These limitations, in conjunction with other limitations in the independent claim, are not specifically disclosed or remotely suggested in the prior art of record. A review of Claims 43-47, in view of the Examiner's remarks above, indicates that Claims 43-47 are allowable over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
